

UN TO INVITE CHINA TO CEASE FIRE TALKS

Committee Urges Cancelling Dixon-Yates Contract

New Zealand to Offer Plan to Security Council

Expect India to Be Intermediary In Negotiations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The United States and Britain have agreed to invite Red China to the United Nations in an attempt to arrange a cease-fire for Formosa, it was learned today.

Authoritative sources said the two major Western powers have authorized New Zealand to make the formal proposal to the U. N. Security Council on Monday.

In Moscow, British Ambassador Sir William Hayter called on Soviet Foreign Minister W. M. Molotov and urged that Russia use its good offices to persuade Red China to accept. He also asked Russia to advise Peiping to adopt a moderate attitude toward the Formosa crisis.

India was expected to be asked to play the role of intermediary in negotiations with the Red Chinese.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru was on his way to London today with what were believed to be Red China's terms for an agreement to end the dangerous clashes between Red and Nationalist Chinese forces in the Formosa area.

Diplomat Brings Information

The Indian leader is armed with information obtained in a lengthy conference Thursday with Red China's ambassador, who had returned only 24 hours earlier from a four-month stay in Peiping.

Nehru's report to Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill will give the West a tip-off on what prospects for success there are in the diplomatic maneuver to end the shooting off Formosa.

The United Nations will set in motion the wheels of its peace effort later today when Sir Leslie Knox Munro, New Zealand chairman of the Security Council, sends out letters calling other members to Monday's meeting, it was learned here.

Authoritative sources said the Security Council probably will authorize either Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld or Sir Leslie Knox to extend the invitation to Red China to attend the cease-fire talks.

Report U. S. Approval

Authoritative sources said the United States was in "fullest agreement" with the plan to bring Red Chinese delegates here for the peace efforts.

The real question will be whether Peiping will accept. The Communist Chinese government and her Russian ally both have bitterly attacked cease fire suggestions.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Walter F. George said today that proposals for a Chinese-Formosa cease fire will be brought up "immediately" when the United Nations Security Council meets Monday.

The Georgia Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said "an effort will be made, according to my information, by representatives of New Zealand and others."

Letter from Mrs. Seright Tells of Tours in Hawaii

TOUR LETTER from our Mrs. Seright, who is on a short visit to the Hawaiian Islands.

"DEAR FOLKS: We arrived Saturday and have been on tours around the islands. We started this morning at 9 and returned at 5, rested a bit and dressed for dinner. The dining room of the Royal Hawaiian hotel is a dream, and even if you do not want much to eat, when you go down you do eat twice what you intended, as everything is so lovely.

"We saw hundreds of acres of sugar cane today, and fields of pineapple. The sugar cane is so different from what I had thought; it grows about eight feet high in places and shoots come out all around the center cane until the plants are so close together it gives the appearance of large thickets of green and brown grass.

"The bloom is like that of pampas grass and this makes it look more than ever just like wild thickets.

"The pineapple grows more like our cultivated fields. They plant rows of the tops of the pineapple or shoots and after two years they have beautiful fields with one row reaching to the other. This shades the ground so there is never a weed or a blade of grass.

"They have learned that if they plant the new fields at a certain time, they have the largest crop in June and July, so they can use all high school and college students to help in the shipping sheds and in the canning factories. At this season there are many fields that have green pineapples just forming, which will be in their prime in June and July.

"It is very warm here and we had a picnic lunch in a garden today. We saw Pearl Harbor, and you could imagine how easy it was for the Japanese to surprise the island. The harbor is so calm and the ships (65 of them) were all anchored so safely, they were easy to hit.

"Close by were dozens of huge tanks of gasoline and oil, and they were never hit, as the Japanese expected to take the island and needed the gas.

"We have visited the National cemetery, and I took a picture of the grave of Ernie Pyle, who was brought here after his death in the Japanese area.

"We also have visited the Mormon temple and some Buddha temples. Every religion in the world is represented here, and I imagine every race of people.

"We met a group of 22 Yale graduates of the class of 1905, who came all the way from the east coast of the U. S. to be entertained by a Mr. Cook, who lives here and who is paying all the expenses of the group while they are on the island.

"We have three days in which we can visit the local area before we take off by plane for the other islands. Our mail will be delivered to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, c/o Ask Mr. Foster Tour M-1, and we will pick it up before starting the return journey home about February 1.

"DMS."

ELDERADO OIL ACTIVITY: 93 Producing Oil Wells in Eldorado Township; Several Inside City Limits

(Second of a series of four articles on oil in Eldorado township.)

By TIMOTHEUS

A number of years ago there was oil activity in this county and usually the outcome was the same old story: Either a dry hole, or there was oil in the formation but the sand was too tight for profitable production.

But now they're making oil wells out of these tight formations by using a method called hydraulic fracture. Fracturing increases the permeability of an oil-producing zone. It works like this: Fluid mixed with sand is pumped into the pay formation under pressure. The fluid runs out, leaving sand in the cracks. This allows the oil to pass into the well.

Not all wells need hydro-fracture but many of them would not be practical without it.

Since July, 1953, 187 oil drilling permits have been issued at Springfield for tests in Saline county and 132 of these were for Eldorado township. That shows how active that area has been for the past year and a half. Raleigh had 28 permits, Long Branch 21, Tate two, and Independence, Harrisburg, Rector and Brushy one each.

But the best way to tell is to look at the results, which go back somewhat farther than July of 1953: As of last week Eldorado township had 93 producing oil wells, six or eight of them inside the city limits.

But, as was mentioned yesterday, dry holes crop up. During the period of bringing in 93 producers there were 57 dry holes, one gas well made in the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 20, two wells abandoned and 28 drilling locations.

In the city limits of Eldorado, most of the activity so far has been in the Beulah Heights part of the town, which is on the west side. As of last week there had been but one dry hole in the city and it was in the Beulah Heights camp ground area.

Biggest number of producers in the township is northwest of town, where there are 28 in Section 8. This field extends westward into Section 7, where there are six producers just across the section line.

And a look at a map shows there is more or less of a neck of producers through Section 17, to the south of Section 18, which connects with the Beulah Heights field in Section 20, which had 19 producers a week ago.

There is a nice field about a mile and a half east of Eldorado in Section 23, where there are 14 producers and where there have been but three dry holes.

But the hot spot right now is in Section 15, and Section 10 above it, which are getting the rush from the operators. Last week there were but four producers but they were good ones, notably C. O. Flanders and the Vilphila Lassater wells.

High Schools to Turn In Polio Pennies Tonight

There will be lots of pennies at Davenport gymnasium this evening!

A telephone call to the four high schools in Saline county this morning revealed that the Polio Penny Parade is rolling in high gear.

A final count completed at Harrisburg Township high school and reported at 1:30 p. m. today revealed a total of $5,031 pennies was collected at HTHS. This exceeds the quota based on 100 pennies per student.

E. J. Thompson's home room collected 10,650 pennies and the candidate for queen from that room, Miss Robin Wathen, will represent HTHS in the county-wide queen contest.

The report from Eldorado was that 33,510 pennies had been counted at 10 o'clock, but "we think many of the students are holding out until the last minute." Beth York with a total of 14,700 was leading in the queen race.

Galatia, with a student body of 191, had a total of 18,700 pennies with Donna Mitchell and Shirley Ritchey waging a close race for the queen candidate.

One student at Galatia, James Turner, a freshman, has collected a total of $31.20. He is a polio patient, who walks with a pronounced limp, and knows the help and aid the March of Dimes gives to those unfortunate enough to be afflicted with polio.

At 11 a. m. today students at Carrier Mills high school had turned in 16,400 pennies and "we expect almost this many more," a spokesman said.

In the queen race Dianne Lightfoot, freshman, was leading with a total of 4,550, but the race is too close to predict a winner, with so many more pennies expected.

Vote on Issue Follows Strict Party Lines

Resolution by Sen. Gore Supported By the Democrats

WASHINGTON — The Democratic-controlled congressional Atomic Energy committee, voting along strict party lines, recommended today that the administration kill the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract.

In the same resolution, approved by 10-8, the committee rescinded its November action which waived a 30-day period for congressional review of the contract. The November action was taken when the committee was controlled by the Republicans.

The effect of rescinding the waiver has never been tested. Republican and Democratic committee members agreed that the action would cloud the contract's status to such a degree that the matter will have to be settled in the courts.

The two-phase resolution was sponsored by Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), one of the contract's most outspoken opponents. It had the support of all committee Democrats.

In what was described as a lively closed-door session, Democrats also overrode two Republican moves against rescinding the waiver. They were made by Rep. Carl Hinchman (R-Calif.).

Chairman Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) said a copy of the resolution, properly certified as accurate, will be forwarded to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Call Special School Election for Vote on HTHS Tax Increase

The proposition to be voted on is "shall the maximum tax rate for the educational fund of High School District 101, county of Saline and state of Illinois, be increased to .71 per cent on the full, fair cash value instead of .50 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?"

A vote on the proposition was held Saturday, Dec. 4, and defeated by a vote of 638 to 507.

11,000-Mile Bicycle Tour of Australia Described by Young Girl to Dinner Club

Miss Shirley Duncan, a native of Melbourne, Australia, who, accompanied by a girl friend, made a two-year, 11,000 mile bicycle trip across that nation, gave a vivid description of the customs and living conditions of that "down under" country to members of the Southern Illinois Dinner club last night at the Kurto Country club.

Most of the 11,000 mile trip made by the girls was by bicycle, but some of it was on trains and one part by boat. Their trip started at Melbourne and took in the more populous southern coastal sections including Sydney and Canberra, the capital of Australia.

In the northern part the girls visited the cattle stations, some of which are hundreds of thousands of square miles in area.

One of the interesting features of the trip, as described by Miss Duncan, was the baby health centers in which nurses ride in completely equipped railway cars and tour the sparsely populated areas in northern Australia and give periodic checks to babies. The train is stopped at various points along the way and remains halted while a baby is checked in the health car. The health centers are operated by the government and is a free service.

This free service is only one of several operated by the government. Another is the Flying Doctors who are available to all areas of Australia. Each Flying Doctor has a 500 mile area and all the cattle stations in the area are equipped with radio transmitters furnished by the government with which to call the Flying Doctors in cases of emergency. The radio transmitters also provide excellent ways for the lonely settlers to visit with each other as there are no telephones in that area of Australia. Each cattle station is required by law to have a radio transmitter.

Dulles Bars Families from Visiting Prisoners Because Of Possible Red Treachery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Possible Communist treachery and the threat of war in the Far East prevented the families of 17 imprisoned Americans from visiting them in Red Chinese jails, officials said today.

The Chinese Communists offered to allow the visits, but Secretary of State John Foster Dulles barred acceptance Thursday night after long and careful consideration.

In letters to families, Dulles said the "increasingly belligerent attitude and actions of the Chinese Communists in recent days" forced the decision that passports could not be issued "for the time being" for travel to Red China.

Calling again on the Reds to free the Americans, Dulles said that in the interests of peace "we do not think it prudent to afford the Chinese Communists further opportunities to provoke our nation and strain its patience further." Without elaboration, he added that the United States would renew its efforts to win freedom for the prisoners if the United Nations fails to persuade the Chinese Communists to let them go.

Administration officials said it was "anybody's guess" whether Dulles' decision would be used by the Reds to keep the Americans in jail longer. They charged that the Reds, in making the offer in the first place, had come up with a "fiendishly clever" . . . cruel propaganda gimmick designed to cause the families grief whether or not they tried to go to Red China to see their loved ones.

But officials said the decision turned on two important factors:

1. The sudden step up in Chinese Communist attacks on Nationalist-held islands and accompanying declarations to "liberate" Formosa and resist any U. N. efforts toward a ceasefire between Red and Nationalist China. President Eisenhower's message to Congress on Monday stressed this nation's peaceful intentions but made clear it was ready to fight if need be. If trouble breaks out, officials said the government would not want "any more hostages" in Chinese Red hands.

2. The official view is that the Chinese Communists, even in less tense days, could not be trusted fully to let the families leave Red China after the visit.

Australia has an area of about 3,000,000 square miles, just about the same as the United States, but it is sparsely populated, the most thickly populated areas being around the southern and eastern coastal sections.

Settlers are being brought to the central area from Britain and other European nations, but no Asians or colored people are allowed to prevent any racial disputes, Miss Duncan stated.

Since making the 11,000 mile bicycle tour of her own country, Miss Duncan has visited 31 nations including Britain, Europe, Japan and now the United States. She has worked her own way throughout all these trips and at present is in the United States on a two-year speaking contract.

Of all the nations visited, Miss Duncan says none can compare with the conveniences and high standard of living that she has found in the United States. Her advice to all American travelers is to be sure and purchase a round trip ticket so they can return home.

G. Hudson Mudge, new club president, was in charge of last night's meeting and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. Russell Malan. The invocation was given by T. Leo Dodd of Eldorado.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 24 and the guest speaker will be Robert Christopher who will give a talk on traveling around the world. Members will be permitted to bring guests that night and President Mudge announced that memberships are available for the current series of meetings. The meeting last night was the first of a new year's series and he stated the fall meetings to begin in October will be held on Tuesday evenings instead of Thursday evenings.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

How much then is a man better than a sheep?—Matthew 12:12. A sheep provides wool for warm clothing and excellent food for humanity. A good man is worth vastly more than a sheep, but some men are liabilities requiring police oversight, prisons and law courts at the expense of good men. They are worse than worthless.

Cutting the Army

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

A debate over proposed cuts in the size of the nation's ground armies is evidently assured in Congress. But it ought not to be a partisan discussion.

Politics will only serve further to obscure an issue that is already far from clear. The effort should rather be to strip away as much confusion as possible, so we understand exactly what it is we are considering.

For one thing, President Eisenhower should make even plainer than he has the fact that giving priority to our atomic air strength does not mean reducing ground forces to an ineffectual shadow.

The concept this Administration has of the Army is of a relatively small but expertly trained and highly mobile force, backed by a tremendous reserve which could be mustered for a long war.

Such an army would surely be no shadow, nor would it encourage a potential enemy to believe we could fight only one kind of war — atomic.

Critics of the President's suggested reduction of 380,000 men apparently are trying to intimidate that this force might mean the difference between being able to cope with new local wars and not being able. Actually, any such intimidation is vastly misleading.

In Western Europe, we are prepared to impose if not turn back a ground offensive with American units which are part of the long NATO defensive arc. There we have the advantage of dealing with friendly powers who not only permit but want our armies on their soil.

No comparable situation exists in the troubled areas of Asia and the Middle East. We have some units holding the true line in Korea and others stationed in Japan. But these are not designed as a mobile force geared to jump off at a moment's notice to help quell trouble in Indo-China, Thailand, Indonesia, Iran or elsewhere.

There is now no place in that general area where we have or could put troops for such a purpose. Having or not having an added 380,000 men will not affect this problem. However many soldiers we have, it is clear they would have to travel long distances by water or air to reach the scene of aggressions in the Middle East or Asia.

If by sea the delay almost certainly would insure speedy triumph for the invaders. And neither this Administration nor any other has ever seriously considered creating an airborne force of sufficient size and power to fight quickly and effectively in small wars.

The problem has another side. Since the Korean aggression, which we were able to meet because we had forces just 700 miles off, the Communists may have decided never to resort to open invasion again. They may rely on subversion, the fomenting of civil war, and the clandestine shipment of arms and men across borders. This way of fighting the small war worked in Indo-China.

Inasmuch as the trouble is then obviously "internal" armed intervention—even if militarily possible—would depend on the invitation of the country involved in the struggle. Considering the West's present unpopularity in Asia, such an invitation clearly would not be automatic.

The hard truth is we have no settled strategy for dealing with the small war, whether fought by open aggression or internal subversion. Except for the special Korean situation, we have never had. Congressional debaters ought not to suggest that Mr. Eisenhower's proposed Army cuts destroy something we never had.

The District of Columbia had a delegate in Congress for four years, 1871-1875.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike Wants To Get Admiral Radford Out Of His Thinning Hair; Eisenhower Feels Congress Should Be Consulted More Frequently By President.

WASHINGTON. — Only a few intimates know it, but a secondary reason why President Eisenhower submitted his Formosan policy to Congress was to get his impetuous advisers out of his thinning hair. They have been rowing like cats and dogs during White House conferences.

Specifically, he hoped to head off Adm. Arthur Radford's constant nagging and clamoring for action in the Far East. The fiery chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff has been pressing for military measures against Red China to the point that it is beginning to wear on the President's nerves.

Now, when Radford raises the issue, Ike can pass the buck to Congress and point out that he is morally obligated to consult fully with congressional leaders before taking important action. Privately, Ike even commented that veteran politicians like House Speaker Sam Rayburn would be in no hurry to put the nation's sons under arms again.

This column can report that the President's decision to share with Congress his authority to direct foreign policy originated strictly with him. When he brought up the idea of going to Congress with the Formosan issue, his advisers agreed it would be good politics to stick the Democrats with partial responsibility for our Far Eastern policy.

However, this was not Ike's motive, and he dismissed it impatiently. Rather, he spoke of his conception of the presidency, which, he thought, had taken on too much power under the Democrats. He criticized ex-President Truman for arbitrarily taking over the coal mines, also for sending U. S. forces into Korea without consulting Congress.

Ike also confided that he intended to use Congress as an excuse for shushing up his advisers who have been trying to push him into war with Red China.

Meanwhile, his diplomatic and military advisers were battling behind the scenes—even on the day the message was sent—over whether to defend the Nationalist-held offshore islands. Secretary of State Dulles is flatly against defending any island outposts, except Formosa itself and the adjacent Pescadores. He recognizes, however, that it would be political folly to say so. As a result, he has tempered his statements in his talks with senators in Capitol Hill.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff, however, have long favored defending key offshore islands, including beleaguered Tachen Island, 200 miles north of Formosa. This is a vital radar warning post, they say, to let the planes from China's big jet bases around Shanghai. Quemoy island, on the other hand, is located directly opposite Formosa and is necessary to guard against any invasion attempt, the Joint Chiefs declare. Low fogs also hang over the Formosan Straits, and Quemoy and other near-by islands are needed as observation posts, argue the military men, in case a Red invasion force tries to move on Formosa under cover of fog.

SUMMERFIELD RETALIATES Postmaster General Summerfield is now telling the Treasury Department how to run its business.

Ex-Congressman Harlan Hagen of Minnesota was all set to become director of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving. But Hagen had made the mistake last year of defying Mr. Summerfield and voting to increase postal workers' pay.

Like the elephant, Mr. Summerfield doesn't forget. When he heard Hagen was to head up the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, he rushed to the White House and stopped the appointment. It doesn't pay to oppose the postmaster general.

CAPITOL NEWS CAPSULES

McCarthy's Spies — Gen. Mark Clark has discovered that the so-called evidence Senator McCarthy had about Communists in the Central Intelligence Agency is completely worthless. . . . McCarthy turned over his much-ballyhooed material to Clark last week and Clark's investigators now have had a chance to look it over. They have found it to be a collection of gossip, half-truths, and complaints by disgruntled former CIA employees which add up to precisely nothing.

Dirksen Digs In — Senator Dirksen of Illinois tried to bank on to his chairmanship of the Republican Senatorial Campaign committee. This is the key committee that dishes out money to the Senate candidates. . . . But GOP Senate leaders, Knowland of California and Millikin of Colorado insisted on sticking to the rule that no senator who will be a candidate himself can head the Senatorial Campaign Committee. (Dirksen runs for re-election in 1956. If he had kept his chairmanship, he would have been in charge of allotting money for his own campaign.)

Legislator Prepares Bill to Provide County Care of Cancer Patients

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A proposed law for county care of Illinois cancer victims was being prepared today by a legislator who said "not one in 25,000 persons can stand the expense of a cancer case."

Rep. W. K. (Bill) Kidwell, Mattoon, whose wife died of cancer in 1951, said his bill will be patterned after the county tuberculosis law. That law permits, but does not require, counties to levy a tax to pay for care of tuberculosis victims, he said.

Kidwell said the cancer care measure would require approval of voters at a referendum before the tax could be levied.

"This is not socialized medicine," Kidwell said. "I believe when the people know the way such a program works they will be for it."

Helped Set Up TB Program Kidwell said as Democratic state's attorney of Coles County in 1940-43 he helped establish the county's tuberculosis program under state legislation completed in 1941.

"We had 20 tuberculosis cases in Coles County when we started the program," he said. "We found that a tax of 3-4 of one cent on $100 property valuation was sufficient for their care. The people approved the tax, nine to one."

Kidwell, who said he is "neither a millionaire nor a pauper," said his wife was hospitalized four months and 21 days before her death.

"It cost us $8,755, money it took us more than 10 years to save," he said. "The increase in wages of private nurses and higher cost of hospital rooms would boost the cost from $42 a day in 1951 to $52.50 now."

Describes His Plan

Kidwell said counties that set up a cancer care program would pay the cost for cancer victims at the nearest hospitals providing such care, as they do under the tuberculosis program.

The higher cost of cancer care and the length of hospitalization in some cases might require a statutory limit on the number of days a person could benefit from the program, he added.

The lawmaker said he prefers a locally administered program rather than a state cancer hospital as proposed by some Chicago legislators.

"I'm afraid the proposed cancer hospital at Chicago would result in Chicago usurping the whole hospital," he said.

There's a new zip to Dynaflow*

— and better gas mileage to boot!

This is something you really ought to try.

Even though you may be familiar with earlier versions of Dynaflow Drive—either from personal experience or from hearsay—you owe it to yourself to press the pedal of a 1955 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

Just as simple as ever to operate—easier, in fact, with the new positioning of the lever. Just as smooth as ever, with nary a lag, halt or hesitation throughout the speed range.

But brother!—hang on to your hat when you call for action!

Because that's what you get, instantly.

Because twenty power blades inside the very heart of this wondrous automatic transmission switch their pitch for getaway performance—much like the airplane's propeller is angled for take-off.

It's as simple as that—but far more thrilling than words can tell.

And it's a big boon to your gasoline money, too. For, just as the plane's propeller changes pitch aloft for greater fuel efficiency in cruising, so the Dynaflow "propellers" change pitch to deliver a lot more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

Come in and try it—this week. You'll find it harnessed to the highest V8 horsepowers in Buick history—and housed in the bold new styling that says Buick and nothing but.

Expectant Mother, Teen-Age Girl Beaten, Raped

CHICAGO — Police Commissioner Timothy O'Connor today took personal charge of the hunt for two bandits who raped and beat an expectant mother and a teen-aged girl and shot one of them.

O'Connor said the assault in a Southwest Side grocery store Thursday night was Chicago's worst crime "since the Degnan murder."

The kidnap-murder of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan in 1945 is one of Chicago's most famous criminal cases. William Heirens, a former University of Chicago student, is now serving a life term for the slaying.

The victims of Thursday night's attack were a 27-year-old housewife who is expecting her first child in June and a 14-year-old high school freshman who was clerking in the store.

The women were alone in the store when the bandits, both Negroes, entered.

The men ordered the woman to turn out the lights and, after they had scooped $40 to $50 from the cash register, forced the girl and woman into a back room.

The woman was raped three times in the back room and the girl twice, police said. The bandits struck the woman and girl repeatedly as they assaulted them.

The woman and girl were then ordered to stand facing the wall. The girl was slugged from behind and the woman was shot three times.

The bullets entered the woman's back, left hip and left hand. She was reported in serious condition at St. Bernard's hospital. Fourteen stitches were required to close the wound on the girl's head.

Refreshments were served to the following: Eva Bowles, Maxine Belt, Lavern Underwood, Barbara Borders, Maxine Lamar, Coleta Garrison and the hostess, Mrs. Opal Duncan.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Regina Duke.

Day of A-Ships Coming Fast, Navy Sec'y Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said today that the day of atomic-powered surface vessels "will come very fast."

"The potential for atomic power is far beyond anything we've thought of before," he told the House Armed Services Committee. Thomas made the statement in testimony defending the administration's military budget cuts.

He assured the committee the Navy can cope with "any local naval actions" in the Formosan straits and is ready to retaliate immediately if general war breaks out.

Thomas testified that tests of the world's first atomic-powered submarine Nautilus have been "outstanding"—that they "far exceeded" any trials Thomas has ever seen.

Says Potential Is Great

Thomas said that atomic engines for new atomic-powered submarines will be "much more advanced—with greater power and less weight."

Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.) asked Thomas if the Navy planned to power larger, surface ships with atomic energy.

"In my opinion," Thomas answered, "you're going to see that in the not too distant future. The potential for atomic power is far beyond anything we've thought of before."

Thomas said development of atomic-powered surface ships "will come much faster than we thought in the past."

Carney and Shepherd Appear

Thomas appeared before the committee with Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, and Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., Marine Corps commandant.

Shepherd reported that the Marine Corps "is in excellent condition."

"Our three divisions and three air wings are prepared to go into combat today, if need be," Shepherd said.

The Marine Corps faces a cut of 31,000 men to a total of 193,000 between June 1954 and June 1956. The Navy faces a cut of 62,000 men, to a total of 657,000 in the same period under the administration's manpower reduction.

The committee has scheduled a public airing next week of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's protests of even steeper cuts in Army manpower.

Sheppard Brothers To Share Equally in $196,000 Estate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard and his two brothers have been named equal heirs to the $196,000 combined estate of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Richard A. Sheppard.

In wills filed Thursday in Probate Court, Mrs. Sheppard left an estimated $80,000 worth of real estate and personal property amounting to about $16,000. Her husband left some $100,000 to his three sons. He left his medical books, surgical instruments and $45,000 in notes to Bay View Osteopathic Hospital, which he had a large part in founding.

The elder Dr. Sheppard died Jan. 18. Mrs. Sheppard died Jan. 7 of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Maddix glanced briefly over the paper, laid it brusquely to one side. His manner hardened and Crotch glimpsed the degree of hatred the man held for him for the beaching of his packet. Along the Colorado there was no law except the enforcement of the strongest will, and Maddix's court was an irregularity. A few of the spectators were keenly aware of this. Yet Crotch's case was hopeless. In all probability Sugar Logan knew nothing of the proceedings. Sugar Logan and John Slade were in La Paz.

"This agreement contains your signature," Maddix proclaimed solemnly. "I decree that you surrender your copy to the court. If you do that freely, foregoing all further efforts to coerce the company, the other charges against you will be dropped. Failure to do so will carry a penalty of six months in jail."

Anger was a churning, bubbling thing in Crotch as Maddix laid down his humiliating edict.

"I never saw the contract that called for $7. This man doesn't belong in any way with the ore company. He lies!"

Judge Maddix arose, face flaming scarlet. "Any word spoken against the ore company is contempt of court. The witness has testified and in so doing has established his facts. This man is the friend of the miner, the merchant, the freighter who desires honest charges on river transportation. The Court will not sanction offense against the company or the friends of the people. Captain Crotch, you are sentenced to jail!"

They hit him from behind before the pistol cleared his belt. Among them were two malcontent traders and a pair of Cops who remembered their licking on the San Diego. Duey was in on the kill, too; he had recovered from his pistol whipping and was primed to carry his grudge the limit. When Crotch went down under their combined weight, Duey drew back his thick-soled boot and sent it into Crotch's face.

Crotch came to in a darkness having neither outline nor substance. His head throbbed from

Pro Selections In Football Draft IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Selection of Oregon's George Shaw as the No. 1 choice in the professional football draft may surprise the average fan but the pros think it's a deserved honor — and chuckle heartily at those various post-season All-America teams.

Shaw didn't make many "All" teams last fall when the annual madness came to a head. The quarterback honors in most cases went to Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi.

But Shaw was the pro No. 1 choice, while end Max Boydston of Oklahoma was picked second and Guglielmi was no better than third.

Before getting around to the "professional All-America" team — on the basis of the first men picked for each position — let's look at what some of the pros say about Shaw. He was picked by the Baltimore Colts, and President Don Kellest, with a wide smile, asserted:

"We don't have any doubt but what he was the best all-around back in the country. We needed offense because we have a fine defense. We think he'll give us the offense along with Alan Ameche."

Considered "Lucky"

The Colts considered themselves "lucky." They won the bonus draw which gave them first choice. And then they were able to grab Ameche as they also got their first round choice in their regular turn.

"Shaw's choice is no surprise," confirmed General Manager Nick Kerbaw of the Detroit Lions. "He can do more things for you than Guglielmi and in pro ball you need versatile players."

The pro "All-America" — on the basis of the first men picked at each position — shapes up this way:

Ends: Max Boydston, Oklahoma; and Jim Temp, Wisconsin; tackles, Frank Varichione, Notre Dame, and Sid Fournet, LSU; guards, Tom Bettis, Purdue, and Jim Salisbury, UCLA; center, Larry Morris, Georgia Tech; quarterback, Shaw; halfbacks, Joe Heap, Notre Dame, and Dick Moegle, Rice, and fullback, Ameche.

Of these men only Boydston, Fournet, Moegle and Ameche made just about everybody's All-America team.

Some Didn't Make It

Temp didn't make it, nor did Varichione or Heap. Morris got only a few scattered nominations while Bettis and Salisbury were second team consensus choices.

The second "pro All-America," on the basis in which they were picked by the pros, includes Guglielmi and Oklahoma center Kurt Burris, two "everybody's All-Americans." With them are ends Bob Long, UCLA, and Ed Bernet, SMU; tackles Frank Morze, Boston College, and Buck Lansford, Texas; guards, Jack Patera, Oregon, and George Preas, VPI, and backs Ron Drzewiecki, Marquette; Dave Middleton, Auburn, and fullback Dick Bielski, Maryland.

Surprise. Well, as one of those so-called "experts" who annually hold forth on who should be an All-American, I was too. The guys

Evans is Replaced By Robert Kahler as Northern Illinois Coach

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — George (Chick) Evans resigned Thursday as head football coach at Northern Illinois State Teachers college after 26 years on the job.

Robert Kahler, former Nebraska and Green Bay Packer star, was named to succeed him. Evans will remain as athletic director.

Evans, whose teams won 130 games, lost 68 and tied 20, said he was resigning as head coach because of the demands of his job as athletic director.

Kahler, who has been backfield coach at De Kalb six years, lettered three years at Nebraska in football and track. He played for the Packers in 1942-44 and at one time held the American indoor low hurdle record. He coached one year at Wayne, Neb., State Teachers before coming to De Kalb.

"Lilly," Crotch said, "is all woman. I'm going to see that she gets a decent chance if we ever get her to Lavinsky landing. But why do you figure they brought us here?"

"What they count on is a quick grab at our contract, whip us down to meek sheep. Then they'll forget this law business."

They were silent after that and it came to Crotch suddenly that the landing's usual noises had let up.

"Something up," he whispered testily. "That's what took Duey away to that front room."

They continued to listen until finally they heard a steady, sustained cheering of voices. Following this, Crotch caught the wailing notes of a strange music.

Marine Hiker Reaches Goal; Has 33 Miles to Go

CHRISTOPHER, Ill. (AP)—A Marine hiker 100 miles to raise funds for the March of Dimes has accomplished his original goal of $2,640 with 33 miles remaining ahead of him.

Sgt. Dick Mitchell headed for Du Quoin today after raising nearly $48 per mile for each of the 67 miles he hiked this week. The Marine recruiter's trek for polio brought in donations totaling $2,808.80 by the time he arrived here late Thursday afternoon.

The Purple Heart veteran of the Korean War originally challenged residents of 13 southern Illinois cities to put up a penny for each of the 2,640 steps he figured he would take in a mile. The donations have run almost twice that so far.

A $100 check from Charles Moleski, a Benton policeman and ex-Marine, helped boost the collection taken from Benton to Christopher to $518.

Mitchell set off this morning in a light snowfall for Du Quoin, 13 miles away. Part of his route was along heavily traveled U. S. 51 and he will head south Saturday to Carbondale on a final 20-mile hike.

Galatia Five Wins Midget Loop Tourney
Defeats Broughton In Finals; Team Also Wins League Title
Galatia won the Midget conference basketball tournament championship by defeating Broughton 53-20 in the title tilt Thursday evening. The tourney was held at Galatia.
In taking the championship Galatia defeated Carrier Mills 41-21 in the opening round, won from Muddy 45-27 in the semifinals and then swamped Broughton in the finals 53-20.
The victory gave Galatia a clean sweep of Midget conference honors for the year as the team also topped the league in regular play, losing but one game.
Following last night's play Galatia received two trophies—one for taking the tourney and a big travelling trophy for regular play. The big trophy must be won three times before becoming permanent possession of a school. Muddy and Carrier Mills also have a leg on the trophy.
In last night's battle for consolation honors Muddy edged out a thrilling 39-36 victory over Raleigh.
Galatia held the upper hand all the way against Broughton, leading 6-1 at the quarter, 18-3 at half-time and 29-10 after three quarters. In the last quarter Galatia's coach put in his reserves, but they more than held their own and the final count was 53-20.
The consolation game was in direct contrast—a battle all the way. Raleigh led 9-8 at the quarter, 18-16 at half-time and 28-23 after three periods. A big 16-8 advantage in the final frame pulled Muddy to the win.
Scoring: (consolation) Muddy—Smith 19, Beasley 2, Penrod 6, Murphy 10, Shires 2, B. Dardeen 0; Raleigh—D. Arflack 6, Hammerley 10, Whitlock 4, Grisham 10, Oglesby 6; (Championship) Galatia—Jones 8, Williams 3, Beers 24, Hill 7, Martin 6, Pickering 2, Sutter 3, Gardner 0, Pickering 0, Boyett 0; Broughton—J. Allen 9, Parker 6, D. Allen 3 and Essary 2.
Shawneetown's unbeaten Indians were treated to a steak dinner last night by Henry Mealer, operator of the Host House cafe there. Team members, Coach Barney Genisio and Principal Herschel Newcomb made up the group which tore into the steaks as if they were an opposing club!
The Indians are receiving statewide recognition today through an article written by United Press wire service representatives. Stories regarding the unbeaten Shawnees have also appeared in recent weeks in the St. Louis newspapers, the Chicago Daily News and the Evansville Courier. To say the town has gone basketball mad would be exaggerating, but it's on the verge.
Few folks realize it, but Shawneetown's second team is also unbeaten. The young Braves have put together 14 straight without a loss. And for extra measure, Old Shawneetown's grade school quintet is also unbeaten. It is really a basketball year in old (and new) Shawneetown.
Shawneetown Favored to Extend Win Streak to 21 Games—Longest in State
SHAWNEETOWN, Illinois (UPI)—Shawneetown was favored to stretch its winning streak—the longest in current Illinois prep basketball play—to 21 games here tonight against Enfield.
The Shawneetown Indians have not lost a game since a defeat by McLeansboro in a regional tournament last year.
Coach Barney Genisio credits his team's record to the fact that the key players have played together since grade school.
In fact, they learned their basketball under the 29-year-old coach when he guided grade school teams in his first four years here. He took over the prep team two years ago.
Included in the Indians' winning streak are championships of the Equality Invitational and Greater Egyptian Conference tournaments. The Indians are members of the Greater Egyptian circuit and are a sure bet to win the title.
Pressure Is On
Their closest game this season was a 49-48 win over Cave-In-Rock, a team Shawneetown meets again Feb. 4.
The pressure is on the Indians in every game now because, as Genisio put it, "Everybody is out to beat us now."
Even if the Indians lose all remaining conference games, their

Looking At Sports
By Ed Kirkpatrick
Eyes focus tonight on Davenport gymnasium in Harrisburg and the first evening of activity of the second All-Saline county tournament. As the affair is of "blind-draw" nature, supporters of all four teams will need to be on hand early. The draw takes place at 6 o'clock. The tourney should produce some evenly-matched contests, as all four clubs are roughly of the same calibre.
Harrisburg's Bull Dogs have the poorest season record of the four, having won only four of 14 games. But the Bull Dogs have won one, lost one to Eldorado and have posted a victory over Carrier Mills. True, too, is the fact that three of Harrisburg's ten losses have been by three points or less. This, plus the fact Coach Gene Bland's boys will have the advantage of the home court could make them a real contender.
Al Adams' Eldorado cagers boast the best record of the four competing teams. The Eagles have won eight, lost six. Included in their list of victories are the holiday tournament triumphs over Cairo and Metropolis which brought the Adamsmen a first place trophy. Eldorado has broken even with Harrisburg and defeated Galatia by three. They haven't met Carrier Mills yet.
Carrier Mills and Galatia both have five won, 11 lost records thus far this season. In county competition to date, Carrier Mills has lost to Harrisburg, but beaten Galatia (in a double overtime). So, it's pretty evident, the top tournament laurels could wind up at any one of the four schools come Saturday night.
The Carrier Mills Wildcats will probably floor the outstanding player of the meet in the person of big Oliver Rollins. Rollins now has scored 439 points in 16 games for a 27.5 average. His poorest effort was against Carversville early in the month when he scored but 16 points. Since then he has had one 52-point and one 47-point performance.
Shawneetown's unbeaten Indians were treated to a steak dinner last night by Henry Mealer, operator of the Host House cafe there. Team members, Coach Barney Genisio and Principal Herschel Newcomb made up the group which tore into the steaks as if they were an opposing club!
The Indians are receiving statewide recognition today through an article written by United Press wire service representatives. Stories regarding the unbeaten Shawnees have also appeared in recent weeks in the St. Louis newspapers, the Chicago Daily News and the Evansville Courier. To say the town has gone basketball mad would be exaggerating, but it's on the verge.
Few folks realize it, but Shawneetown's second team is also unbeaten. The young Braves have put together 14 straight without a loss. And for extra measure, Old Shawneetown's grade school quintet is also unbeaten. It is really a basketball year in old (and new) Shawneetown.

Minnesota, Northwestern Favored to Win Big Ten Tilts; Illini to Play Loyola
CHICAGO — Minnesota gets a chance Saturday to take over undisputed first place in the Big Ten basketball race for the first time this season, tackling Purdue on the Boilermaker court in one of the two conference matches on the schedule.
In the second scrap Northwestern appears at Ohio State in the afternoon television spectacle.
Two non-conference games are on the evening program, both in the Chicago Stadium where Illinois will resume action after a break for examinations against Loyola and Michigan State plays De Paul.
Iowa, sharing the Big Ten lead with the Gophers, each with four wins in six games, will be idle until Feb. 5 due to semester examinations.
Gophers could Move Ahead
Thus the Gophers by winning could take over first place with a five and two mark, while a victory for Northwestern would move the Wildcats into a tie with Iowa. Northwestern has beaten both Minnesota and Iowa this season, but lost to the Gophers in their second meeting and lost to Purdue also.
Minnesota, Northwestern and De Paul were three-point favorites for the contests, while Illinois, even though sophomore center George Bon Salle may not play, was a 10-point favorite. Bon Salle, who previously played at Loyola Academy in Chicago, sprained his left ankle Monday and was hospitalized until Tuesday.
Coach Harry Combes of the Illini indicated he might hold Bon Salle out of the game to take no risk of losing him before the Feb. 5 game with Northwestern.
Gophers One Up on Purdue
The Purdue-Minnesota scrap will be their second meeting of the season. In their first engagement Minnesota gained a 102-88 decision to set a new school scoring mark. Both teams beat Notre Dame, Minnesota by a 77-66 count and Purdue by a 78-58 margin, and both split series with Northwestern.
Northwestern and Ohio State have had three common opponents. The Buckeyes lost to Iowa, but won from Minnesota.
Dusty Rhodes Gets Pay Raise
By United Press
Dusty Rhodes, that amazing man who made Leo Durocher eat his words and the Cleveland Indians bite the dust, is all set for some more shenanigans.
The New York Giants' pinch-hitter de luxe and sometime outfielder, the surprising star of last year's World Series when his pinch hits led to three of the Giants' four straight wins, signed his 1955 contract Thursday for a $4,000 raise that boosts him to about $12,000.
This time there's no doubt that Rhodes will be a prominent member of the team, but only a year ago Manager Durocher was trying to figure out ways to trade him.
The first time Durocher saw the nonchalant Alabamian a couple of years ago, the outspoken manager used the strongest language he could think of and declared: "If that guy is a ballplayer, I'm Happy Chandler."
Folks will probably be calling Leo "Happy" from now on after Rhodes' 1954 heroics. He pinch-batted 45 times in the regular season and collected 15 hits, including two homers, for a .326 average. Including his work as a sub outfielder, he had a .341 batting mark with 15 homers and 50 runs-batted-in. In the World Series, he set 10 records and tied two more.

'Black Frost' Claims Three Ships, 45 Lives

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Rescue planes of the United States Air Force today braved howling Arctic storms to shepherd to safety a fishing fleet trapped in a deadly "black frost" that has sunk three fishing vessels and claimed at least 45 lives.

On other trawlers, seeking to reach safety from the fearsome Arctic phenomenon which sheathes the rigging of small ships in ice so heavy they overturn, weary seamen hacked away at rock-hard ice frozen to their decks and masts.

Seven American search planes dived above the tossing trawlers, off the rocky Icelandic coast, keeping track of the vessels by radar and guiding them by radio.

The airmen reported ice was forming on the wings of their planes as fast as de-icers could shatter it off.

The death toll from the dread "black frost" jumped from 40 to 45 as an Icelandic trawler, the Egill Raudi, broke up on a remote part of the northwest Icelandic coast and sank in the choppy Atlantic.

The trawler's remaining crew of 29 men were taken from the broken and sinking ship and carried to shore in Iceland's desolate and uninhabited northern area.

Forty men previously were lost aboard two British trawlers which heeled over and sank under the weight of the crust of ice.

A fourth trawler, which lost contact Thursday and was feared sunk by the ice, reestablished radio contact today and reported she was sailing under her own power.

Sabrejets Begin Patrolling Formosa Straits

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Newly arrived U. S. Air Force F86 Sabrejets began patrolling the tension-packed Formosa Straits today. Only a few minutes flying time away, Red China was reported strengthening its jet fighter bases along the Fukien "invasion coast" to counter the American display of aerial might.

Nationalist China's bomber force, ranging close to the China mainland coast, reported it had sunk three Communist landing craft and damaged a 1,500-ton Red warship in missions during the night near the Tachen Islands, 200 miles north of Formosa.

The Chinese said that in addition to their bomber strikes, Nationalist artillery on Tachen Island shelled Communist positions on captured Yikangshan Island, eight miles north of the Nationalist base.

Advocates "Strong Line" U. S. Ambassador Karl Rankin told a press conference he doubted that "there is any danger of a great and important conflict will break out here."

"If we take a strong line—within reason and without provocation—the chances of avoiding war are better," he said.

High American officials said the Nationalists had agreed in principle to evacuation of the Tachens but the Americans and Chinese had not yet reached full agreement on when and how the evacuation should be conducted.

They predicted agreement the moment the Senate passes President Eisenhower's Formosa resolution.

Col. Lu Ta, Nationalist military spokesman, said the Reds had 200,000 men on the Chekiang coast opposite Tachen and another 200,000 men near Quemoy. About half that number were reported massed at Matsu, Nationalist base midway between the two.

Three Men Killed, Two Hurt in Crash

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Three men were killed and two seriously injured in a head-on collision of two cars on Ill. 1 about 10 miles south of here.

Herbert L. McLain, 25, James Hartman, 40, both of Cayuga, Ind., and Harry Maskel, 28, Georgetown, Ill., were killed.

The injured were James N. Ross, 20, Ridgefarm, Ill., and Ervin T. Walters, 26, Cayuga, both in serious condition after admission to Lakeview hospital.

Maskel was driving south alone. The other four men were in a car driven by Ross headed north toward Danville. State Patrolman Elmer Allen said Maskel's auto swerved across the four-lane pavement and rammed into the other vehicle.

U. S. Cool to Chennault Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Retired Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's proposal that an international squadron of volunteer fliers be formed to fight the Chinese Reds has drawn a cool response from U. S. diplomatic officials.

Chennault told United Press in Taipei, Formosa, that an international group of volunteer fliers like his World War II "Flying Tigers" should be formed to fight the Communist Chinese.

But U. S. diplomatic officials here reasoned that this country already has air power in the Formosa area to defend against Red Chinese attacks and that Nationalist China likewise has air power.

HTHS Chemistry Club Elects New Officers

The Chemistry club at the Harrisburg Township high school recently elected officers for the last semester of this year and for the first semester of next year and also initiated several new members into the club at a meeting held Jan. 25.

The newly-elected officers for the club are president, Avah Phillips; vice president, Bill Cole; secretary, Jack Klein; and treasurer, Lyndell Stacy.

The old officers for the club were president, Sally Smith; vice president, Fred Kinnaman; secretary, Marjory Womack; and treasurer, Shirley Clark.

Several students have been initiated into the club this year, with Joan Gaskins, Richard Hess, Leon Davis, John Bishop, and Larry Sprott being initiated Tuesday. At the first of the year Judy Morse, Avah Phillips, Bill Cole, Jack Klein, Lyndell Stacy, Harold Roberts, Harold Guard, Ed Chase, and Orval Harlow were initiated into the club.

To be eligible to be a member of the Chemistry club, sponsored by Miss Elizabeth Longbons, the following requirements must be met by the students: a student must be a member of a Chemistry class; to be admitted at the end of the first six weeks period of the year a student must have an average in chemistry of 83; a student with an average of 90 for the first semester may be admitted at the end of that period, and those with an average of 90 for the second semester or for the whole year are eligible for membership.

At meetings of the club, the programs usually consist of talks on subjects concerning chemistry given by the members or demonstrations of chemical reactions also given by members. The members are required according to the club constitution to complete a project during the year; and also as part of the club's activities work during their free hours as laboratory assistants in the chemistry classes.

Dr. George Fisher, an early physician and prominent citizen of Randolph county and one of the men who helped to frame the first constitution of the State of Illinois, operated a hospital, doubtlessly the first one in the state of Illinois and perhaps in the Midwest, near the town of Modoc in 1808.—(SIU)

Party Wrangle Develops Over Remapping

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Democrats have hurled the first charge of politics on the ticklish question of legislative reapportionment, called the most important lawmaking matter in 50 years.

The two-party wrangle came Tuesday in the Illinois Senate, when Republicans refused to surrender committee control in the matter.

The Legislature is charged with remapping legislative districts under the constitutional amendment adopted last Nov. 2. The amendment was passed with support of both GOP and Democratic leaders.

Sen. William J. Lynch (D-Chicago), Senate minority leader, brought up the question of an equally divided committee on reapportionment as the Senate prepared to vote on the rules for its current session.

Lynch said the rules made no special provision for handling the matter, but "I understand it has been decided" to put 10 GOP members and six Democrats on the Apportionment and Elections Committee.

Lynch said the Senate should follow the lead of the House and form a special equally balanced committee on reapportionment alone.

On a motion by Sen. R. G. Crisenberry (R-Murphysboro), Republicans beat Lynch's motion to amend the rules, 30-17. Then they okayed the rules resolution, 32-17.

Lynch said "It appears that the Republican attitude is that the question of reapportionment is a party matter—I regret that you see it that way."

"If we are commencing at this early date to quibble and quarrel about the way the job of reapportionment is to be done, then I have a feeling we will not get it done," Sen. Marshall Korshak (D-Chicago) said.

Sen. John P. Meyer (R-Danville), chairman of the Committee on Apportionment and Elections, assured the Democrats they will get "fair treatment."

Legion Commander Hits UN Failure to Take Strong Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national commander of the American Legion criticized the United Nations Thursday night for failing to take strong action to stop Communist aggression.

Commander Seahorn P. Collins said that "when the chips are down" it is the United States which has to assume the burden of stopping Communist advances.

Collins addressed the Legion

Auxiliary's forum on national security.

He praised President Eisenhower for drawing the line "which American arms will defend around Formosa." This step forces the Chinese to choose between war and peace, he said.

"It was the lack of resolute action that cinched Communist victories in Czechoslovakia and China and cost us victory in Korea and Indochina," he said.

Collins also said there should be no reduction in the next fiscal year "in the personnel strength and combat effectiveness of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps."
